CONTEST

The KENTUCKIAN'S contest to determine by a vote of its paid subscribers who is entitled to the title of being the ugliest man in

The desire to get rich quick leads many otherwise conservative men and women into all kinds of speculative ventures, which often work out disastrously. There is absolutely no speculation attending the use of Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Peppermint, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction in all cases of constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred troubles. To keep it, send him $1.00 to Pepsi Spritz Co., Monticello, Ill., and they will send you a sample bottle free.

To Export Sugar.

The sugar planters' organization of Mexico City will soon formulate a scheme for promoting the exportation of surplus sugar to England and the continent. It has been agreed to export 20 per cent. of the product.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, which did not get getting worse. I then gave him a small amount of chamber-

There are five leading contestants, who have received strong support. Mr. Chas. W. Smithson is a prominent Longview farmer, who has enlisted the active support of many of his neighbors and other friends all over the county. His picture is shown on this page and it will be admired by even his rivals that he would not run well in a beauty contest. He is in the lead in this the last exhibit of strength

GOES TO JURY.

Jett and White Case Now Nearing An End.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 13.—The last speech was concluded in the Jett and White case and the jury took it at noon. Col. Williams last night placed an extra guard around the jail in which Jett and White are kept as a matter of precaution and on account of some unpleasant rumors which had reached the ears of the soldiers.

Several of the soldiers reported to Capt. McDowell, in command of the company, that for several days and nights past they have seen suspicious characters prowling about the jail premises. Col. Williams would not say that he expected an emergency to arise to require the presence of extra soldiers at the jail, but placed the extra guard on as a preventive measure.

Dick Callahan, a lumberman, was shot and fatally wounded at Ashland while acting the part of peace-maker in a fight between D. L. Preston and Frank Dixon. Both men, it is alleged, shot Callahan while shooting at each other.

RESULTS TELL.

There Can be no Doubt About the Results in Hopkinsville.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Hopkinsville citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof could there be? Mrs. W. L. Johnson, of G. S. Jesup avenue, says: "My husband suffered from rheumatism for years, with a complaint which would be present known by a most severe aching in his back and which often became so bad especially in the morning when rising or on occasions when he was obliged to do considerable stooping. It occurred to him, while reading an advertisement in our local papers about Doan's Kidney pills that they might at least give him some relief, and acting on the thought he went to Thomas & Doan, the proprietors of the box. The treatment proved the merits of the remedy. The aches and pains were relieved and the other symptoms disappeared. I have the best of reasons to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and am confident that in every case they will do all that is represented for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 5 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Telegraphic Typewriting.

The post office telegraphic department have been experimenting for some time between Glasgow and London with a typewriter, an electrical instrument which attaches at the receiving end of the wire, delivering messages transmitted by the Wheatstone system at a rate of twelve-and-a-half words per minute, typewritten in the very fashion on fool-sheets. The experiments are said to have been successful and complete success.

SPECULATIVE.

The desire to get rich quick leads many otherwise conservative men and women into all kinds of speculative ventures, which often work out disastrously. There is absolutely no speculation attending the use of Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Peppermint, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction in all cases of constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred troubles. To keep it, send him $1.00 to Pepsi Spritz Co., Monticello, Ill., and they will send you a sample bottle free.

TO Export Sugar.

The sugar planters' organization of Mexico City will soon formulate a scheme for promoting the exportation of surplus sugar to England and the continent. It has been agreed to export 20 per cent. of the product.

These figures were, for the most part, made in trading banks, on the increase in value of raw sugar. In 1846 a caravel freighted with the wealthy men of the city said that there were then 100,000,000 £1000 sugar notes, but that the number was now 100 times greater.

In 1851 there were eight million £1000 sugar notes in New York worth $800,000,000.

They were W. W. Astor, J. Gould, John D. Rockefeler, W. H.

HISTORIC GAVEL.

has a Notable Record in the Cause of Liberty. The father of Gerster New York, Virginal Man, as the New York is styled him, Andrew H. Green, presided at the ceremonies in times' tavern, gave a gavel that record in the cause of liberty. It belongs to Dr. W. O. McDowell and first used in the tavern at the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as president April 30, 1889. On that occasion the National Society of Sons of American revolution was organized. It was due to Dr. McDowell that organization included daughters as well as sons. The same gavel was a year later, when the "D. A. R." were formed into a separate society. It has "presided" at these celebrations: Centennial of the adoption of the constitutional government by Poland under Kosciusko; centennial of the fall of the Bastile; centennial of the birth of the Republic of France; hundredth anniversary of the compact; centennial of freedom of press in Hungary; first anniversary of the Pan-American congress; hundredth anniversary of the victory of America; Fourth of July celebration at the world's fair, when ringing of universal liberty and peace first floated, etc.

CONCEALED TREASURE.

of Notorious Australian Bushmen Await the Lucky Finder.

There can be no doubt that there is a treasure in Australia. In the fifteen years lucky gold diggers, returning from Ballarat and Bendigo, were killed, and sometimes murdered by bushranging desperadoes of the gold fields. A number of government escort coaches laden with large amounts of gold, and accompanied by mounted troopers—were also overtake by these lawless gangs. Only comparatively small amounts of this treasure was recovered. One notorious bushranger, Capt. McIve, a native of Nottingham, boasted on his trial in the Melbourne jail that he had £50,000 worth of treasure so cleverly "planted" that nobody would be able to find it. More than 40 years have passed since his death, and though there have been many others between Geelong and Ballarat, the scene of the captain's operations, his treasure still remains undiscovered. The other day a living criminal confessed that he was concerned in the robbery of a gold escort from Ballarat in the fifties, and that the owner was "planted" under the roof of a restaurant in Geelong. The place is now a printing office, and the police are engaged in digging operations.—London Chronicle.

A SLIP OF THE TONGUE.

All Made by Senator Frye While Presiding Recently.

Sips of language now and then occur in the senate to lend amusement to the usually dignified proceedings of that august body of legislators. Recently Senator Frye, president pro tempore of the senate, when presiding, desired to dispose of the West resolution providing for free anthracite coal by referring it to the committee on finance, say the Washington Star. The purpose of this resolution was carried in the legislature recently adopted placing anthracite on the free list without restriction, so that the West resolution could serve no purpose by continuing to retain its privileged place before the senate. The chair on such occasions either asks unanimous consent to refer the resolution or asks if there is objection to its reference. Senator Frye addressed the senate, saying:

"Is there unanimous consent to referring the West resolution to the committee on finance?"

He looked over the senate and there being no response continued, under the impression that he had asked if there was any objection to the proposition:

"The chair hears none, and the resolution is so referred."

Usual.

Congressman Moon, of Tennessee, was once a judge in that state. The state's attorney of his district was lax in attention to duty, but endeavored to make it up in talk and impressiveness of manner. One day the district attorney arose to speak on a collateral question. "Your honor," said he, "I should like careful attention, for I am going to talk hard common sense." Judge Moon turned to the sheriff and said: "Mr. Sheriff, please preserve the strictest order so the bar and spectators may hear every thing the attorney says, for he promises to give us a most radical innovation."

Dysentery cured without the Aid of a Doctor.

Take a spoonful of a hard size of the flux (diarrhoea) 800. Mr. T. A. Price, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn., has used one spoonful of the above in all cases of cholera and diarrhoea, and has cured without facing a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world. There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine. It has been found to be good for children as well as adults. Never fails and is pleasant tasting. For sale by C. K. Wylie.

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agriculture, Horticulture, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical, Engineering, Electrical, Engineering, Civil, Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading each to a Master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers nearly fifty professors and instructors.

COUNTY APPOINTEES receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. The latter completed and in use, the former will be ready for occupancy in October.

Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find extensive positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 604.

Summer schools are provided for pedagogic engineering and instruction in science.

Specialists with necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science.

The State College of Kentucky, thus bearing hitherto the title of College of Kentucky, is in every proper sense, university work.

The completion of the college home for young women will provide facilities for good board and lodging. It includes a large dining room, a conservatory, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is afforded to them of a thorough education in Classics, Modern Languages, Literature, Science, Mathematics, Logic, Metaphysics, History and Political Economy. No other institution in the State offers the advantages for the education of women all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

For catalogue, methods of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study, and terms of admission apply to JAMES K. PATTERSON, Ph.D., LL.D., Or to D. C. FRAZER, Bus. Manager, Lexington, Ky.

RESULTS TELL.

There Can be no Doubt About the Results In Hopkinsville.

Results tell the tale.

All doubt is removed.

The testimony of a Hopkinsville citizen.

Can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had?

Mr. L. Johnson, of 615 Jessup ave., Hopkinsville, has suffered for several years with kidney complaint which made its presence known by a most severe aching in his back and which often became so bad especially in the morning when rising on occasions when he was obliged to sit down considerably before getting up. He could scarcely move about. It occurred to him while reading an advertisement in our local papers about Doan's Kidney Pills that they might at least give him some relief and acting on the thought he wrote a telegram to Dr. Fraber's drug store and got a box.

The treatment proved the merits of the remedy. The aches and pains were relieved and the old kidney complaint disappeared.

He gave the box to his physician to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and am confident that in every case they will do all that is represented for them.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Nilburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Telegraphic Typewriting.

The post telegraphic department have been experimenting for some time between Glasgow and London with a typewriter, an electrical instrument which, attached at the receiving end of the wire, delivers messages transmitted by the Wheatstone system at a rate of upward of 100 words per minute, typewritten in the type fashion on fool-sheets. The experiments are said to have been extremely complete success.

Speculative.

The desire to "get rich quick" leads many otherwise conservative men and women into all kinds of speculative ventures, many of which turn out disastrous.

There is absolutely no speculation or risk attending the use of Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction in all cases of constipation, indigestion, nervousness, and all forms of trouble.

It is absolutely safe and reliable.

Ask your druggist if he does not keep it; send his name to Pepain Spray Co., Monticello, Ill., and they will send you a sample bottle free.

To Export Sugar.

The sugar planters' organization of Mexico City will soon formulate a scheme for promoting the exportation of surplus sugar to England and the continent. It has been agreed to export 20 per cent. of the product.

My boy when four years old was taken with chills, fever and pain in his head, and sent for a doctor who injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping soundly again.

The G. A. R. will fight the confirmation of Roosevelt's pet, Gen. Leonard Wood, promoted over the heads of many heroes of the civil war. Hundreds of officers displaced are furious over his repeated promotions at their expense.

Revolutionists are doing some bloody fighting against the Turkish government, and in a recent fight 150 insurgents were killed, but the insurrection is increasing in strength.

A New York man celebrated the death of his wife by giving a big blowout to 800 of his friends, at which 400 gallons of wine were used. He said he made him miserable for 23 years and he waited until the 25th anniversary of his marriage to celebrate her death.

Thos. A. Edison, who, judged by his achievements, is the greatest of living men, shows signs of failing health, resulting from his scientific work. His eyesight is impaired, and lumps, supposed to be tumors, are forming in his stomach.

Colonel General Guenther, of Germany, has recommended that the "zebra" supersede the mule. Another blow at the negro's rights, by attacking his best friend. Next thing some Northerner will try to abolish the watermelon.

The number of deaths resulting from the panic in an underground passage in Paris, France, will exceed 100. Already 84 dead bodies have been taken out of the tunnel. An alarm of fire caused the fatal crush of people on the electric cars.

The Paduac Register has become convinced that the L. C. owns the T. C. It says: "Doubters in Tennessee are becoming convinced that a strong company is behind the building of the Tennessee Central road, which is rapidly making its way from Nashville to Clarksville and on to Hopkinsville. Though it has often been said that the I. C. R. R. was building the

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected. It is a disease characterized by attacks of nervous headache, distress of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

lime, until lately this was steadily disputed in Tennessee, but now other impressions are lodged even in that state. In another year, when the great I. C. system is whirling its cars over the Central iron one end to the other—the that is from Marion, Ky., to Harriman, Tenn.—the people will wonder why they ever doubted this would be the case.

The I. C. has long desired to go into the Tennessee capital and this desire is now all but an accomplished fact."

Miss Mamie De Criss, a white convict in the Georgia penitentiary, was whipped by the warden, being struck twenty-five or thirty lashes with the leather strap. She was assigned to work as a domestic in the warden's family and his reason for whipping her was that she spoke disrespectfully to his wife. After whipping her, Warden Alford forced her to go into the corn field with negro women and hogs until her back was blistered.

The entire press of the South is condemning the whipping and Gov. Terrell has ordered an investigation, that will doubtless result in removing Alford.

Better Than Gold.

...I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and never in debility," writes Prof. Ewart of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicine I ever used. They have kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are especially good for female trouble, that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Frankfort Gets a Rehearing.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11.—Judge Polk Grover today granted a rehearing of the case in which the State secured judgment against the city of Frankfort for $12,000, alleged to be due for taxes. The city owns the opera house.

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Higgins of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me until it was given up to die. The editor of a New Discovery for Consumption induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely is a miracle. This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by R. C. Hardwick Draggett. Price $1.00. Trial Bottle free.

PORTERS UNION.

Propose To Abolish Tipping System—Higher Wages To Be Demanded.

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 12.—A sleeping car porters' union has been organized for the purpose of abolishing the "tipping" system.

An application will be made for a charter affiliating with the American Federation of Labor. Those present at the meeting declared that the company or individual which paid a man such a low wage that he was compelled to ask for and receive tips should be forced to advance the scale.

BABY BALL.

Jackson Team Walks Off the Grounds Footeing Game.

On Wednesday They Refuse to Go to the Bat and Another Game Goes.

Monday's game of ball between Hopkinsville and Paducah was a most exciting one and was won by Hopkinsville, the score being 8 to 6.

Jackson opened here Tuesday for a series of three games, but forfeited two of them to the locals by the score of 9 to 0.

The Jackson nine put up the baby bat to a Queen's taste. On Tuesday, when the last half of the second inning began, the score stood 2 to one in favor of the local team. Linsky knocked a two基 runner toward third base. Jackson's third baseman stopped the ball and attempted to touch Linsky as he was going from second to third. The latter bent his body, taking a step to one side. Umpire Bassett called him safe at third. The Jackson boys demurred at the decision and, refusing to play longer, left the field. The game, of course, was then given to Hopkinsville by the score of 9 to 0. Up to this time the game was the closest and most exciting ever witnessed on the diamond here.

On Wednesday when the game was called, Jackson refused to put a man to the bat when Umpire Bassett called off a batter. Three balls were pitched over the plate and three strikes and out" was called. This ended the game. Jackson again forfeiting to Hopkinsville by the score of 9 to 0.

The third of the series was scheduled for yesterday afternoon. Cairo arrived here last night for a game with Hopkinsville. The first game will be played this afternoon and the second tomorrow.

The third is scheduled for Sunday, but as no Sunday ball is allowed here the teams will play this game in Cairo.

GOOD-BY TO MULE.

Will He Supersede By Cross Between Horse And Zebra. Experiments.

Washington Aug. 12.—"The number of the mule is numbered. Within the next few centuries his meadow voice will have been stilled forever." This is the prophecy of United States Consul General Richard Guenther, at Frankfort, Germany, who sends an official report to the State Department on the chances of the zebra, a cross between a horse and zebra, superseding the mule. He says of the qualification of the zebra:

"German papers contend that it has been demonstrated that the mule, the cross between the horse and donkey, is inferior to the cross between the horse and zebra.

"Formerly the opinion prevailed that the zebra was almost extinct. The opening up of Africa, particularly the eastern part, reveals these fine animals in large numbers.

Compared with horses and cattle, they possess peculiar advantages, as they are immune against the very dangerous horse disease of Africa and also against the deadly 'tsetse.' The question was, therefore, raised whether the zebra could not take the place of the mule commonly used in the tropics.

"The greatest credit with reference to the solution of this problem is due to Prof. Ewart, who has been trying since 1895 to produce crosses between horses and zebras, with a view to developing an animal superior in every respect to the mule.

"Prof. Ewart produced crosses from different breeds of mares and zebra stallions of the Bushnell kind. The offspring is called zebra, which, on account of its form and general bodily condition, especially the hardness of the hoofs, is especially adapted for all transport work heretofore performed by mules. The zebra is much livelier than the mule, and at least as intelligent. The zebra stripes are often well preserved, while the underpart of the skin is generally that of the mother. A full grown zebra is fourteen hands high and the girdle circumference about one hundred and sixty centimeters (sixty three inches).

"The experiments so far have been encouraging, but it is predicted that the zebra during the present century will completely supersede the mule."

Hot weather saps the vital energy and makes the hardest workers feel lazy. To maintain strength and energy, use Prickly Ash Bitter. It is the friend of industry. R. C. Hardwick, special agent.

HAY FEVER VICTIMS.

Have a Summer Resort In Michigan.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 13.—Louisville is well represented in the Western Hay Fever Association, which has begun its annual pilgrimage to the Northern lake regions away from the distressing influence of the rag weed.

The hay fever colony is such an important one that it has made a permanent location at St. Ignace, Mich., where a tract of land containing twenty-two acres with improvements costing $7,000 has been leased for ninety-nine years. The association has made such terms with the city of St. Ignace that not a dollar of indebtedness has been created against the members.

The Seeker is the name of a publication by the Western Hay Fever Association.

MR. HARDWICK DEAD.

Brother of Dr. Hardwick Passes Away at Hartford.

Mr. W. G. Hardwick, of Hartford, one of the most prominent men in Ohio county, died of flux Tuesday morning, after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Hardwick was forty-five years of age and was years ago elected circuit clerk of Ohio county and held that office until two years ago, when he went into the insurance business. He is survived by three brothers. They are Messrs. Charles and Henry Hardwick, of Memphis, and Dr. R. C. Hardwick, of this city. Mr. Hardwick married a sister of Mr. Thomas Lee, of Owensboro, who with one daughter survives him.

In Memorium.

From the Frankfort Journal:

In memory of Mrs. Mattie Hester Nance, who died August 8th, 1902.

In the past year, heaven has kept a jewel taken from our home. God knew best when he took dear sister from us yet 'tis so hard to give her up.

I feel each day as if she will surely come again, but the void can not be filled. Her chair still sits at the table. I realize it will vacate, but it is so much comfort to know our home was once graced by her sweet presence. How long for her tender words and bright smiles she always had for me. Her guiding influence over my past life is so deeply planted in my nature that it can never die in the future and this I value more than all things. She came first with me on earth and is now my "Guardian Angel" in heaven.

A patient Christian life was hers, clouded for years by suffering, but she proved sunshine, even in the darkest cloud, and to the last spoke comforting words to her loved-ones. "To know her is to love," was said by many.

Often in day dreams I wonder, To a green hill where alien, Lies my dear and only sister, Near a river dark and deep.

There the blue-bells grow and blossom;

All around their petals fall, Sending fragrance through the silence,

Answering the breezes' call,

There the birds sing sweetest music,

And the rivers echoes send: There no shadows ever linger, For the sunbeams watch and bend.

DEFENDS LYNCHING.

Only Remedy for Assaults on Women of South.

Mob Law Terrorizes the Negro Criminal and Prevents a Criminal of Crime.

Chautauqua, N.Y., Aug. 11.—Unique among all summer gatherings is the "mob conference," now in progress here. The increase of mob spirits shown by feuds, lynchings, riots, assassinations and other lawless happenings gives great importance to this conference. Among today's speakers was John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, Ga., who spoke on "The Mob Spirit of the South." He defended lynch law as a remedy for the crime of rape, holding that though lynching is a crime, it is justified by the crime which provokes it, and will never be discontinued until that crime is eliminated. The remedy for lynching must be the elimination of the crime of rape, and this, he maintained, could be done only by the separation of the two races in the United States.

"They problem of the hour is not how to prevent lynching in the South, but the larger question: How shall we destroy the crime which always has and always will provoke lynching?" The answer which the mob returns to this vital question is already known. The mob answers it with the rope, the bullet, and sometimes, God save us, with the torch. And the mob is practical; its theory is effective to a large degree; the mob is today the sternest, the strongest and the most effective restraint that the age holds for the control of the rape fiend."

Held in Check.

The lynching does not exterminate the rapist, Mr. Graves contended, but he holds him mightily in check. As a sheer cold, patent fact, he said, the mob stands today as the most potential bulwark between the women of the South and such a carnival of crime as would infuriate the world and precipitate the annihilation of the negro race. The masses of the negro, he held, are not afraid of death coming in a regular way. They love display, and the spectacular element of a trial and execution appeal to their imaginations.

Expediting the processes to the law would not be adequate to eliminate lynching. The repeal of the amendment and the establishment of the negro's inferiority in law and society, said Mr. Graves, though desirable, are not sufficient "for the negro," he added, "in a thing of the sexes, and with this race and with all similar races the desire of the sexes must be restrained by the terror of the sexes, if not by the law."

Must Separate Races.

No influence or suppression so mighty and effective could be brought to bear as a law making amputation the penalty for the crime of rape, but this, like Curfew edicts, separate laws for white and black, or the treatment of the crime of rape as separate, and outside of all other codes, are but expedients, he maintained: there is no real remedy but one. No statute will permanently solve this problem. Religion does not solve it, Education complicates it. Politics complicates it. "The truth which lies beyond and above all these temporizing expedients," he concluded, "is that separation is the logical, the inevitable, the only solution of the great problem of the races."

Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well.

What need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite and makes sleep refreshing and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

LETTERS FROM WOMEN.

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 510 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak all the time. My doctor and his wife advised me to try Peruña and the result I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful."

"I consider myself cured after five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."

Peruna makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following from 70 Washington Place:

"As a tonic for a worn out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it in my medicine cabinet, and never have I had such a 'first feeling,' as a few doses of Peruña always gives me. It always makes me feel like a different woman." —Florence Allan.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the disease, removing numerous morbid and unhealthy mucous membranes; besides the catarrh can no longer exist.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Marie Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and President of the Appleton Young Ladies Club, writes:

"When the laundry was feeling continually bad, Peruña food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruña will make you feel like another person inside of a week."

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious in all diseases."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruña write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving full details of your trouble, and we will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DEMOCRATS ARE SPLIT

As Result of the Taylor Lovett Contest in the Second Judicial District,

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 11.—Chairman C. W. Morrison, of the Second Judicial District Committee, has written a letter to Secretary Geo. Edwards of Marshall county, the other member of the committee, calling the committee to meet here next Saturday for the purpose of arranging the primary and nominate a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney. This is the outgrowth of the Taylor-Lovett contest, Taylor alleging fraud in Marshall, but in the contest Morrison and Edwards deadlocked and the former is now ardently working to get a second primary. It is practically settled that Edwards will be against the local chairman's efforts, in which event Taylor will announce as an independent candidate. The contest has split Democrats in this judicial district.

(A period of four months elapses.

Mr. Reginald Glover has called frequently on Miss Mabel Cherry. She has unfortunately never been at home. He has written her a note asking when he might see her. No answer.

He has written her a letter in case she might think an explanation necessary. No answer. He has sent her a telegram, saying there was something he particularly wanted to tell her. No answer. He has sent her some flowers, with an urgent message. No answer. He has passed her on the street on several occasions. Each time she was very much occupied with a companion and did not notice him. He has been broken-hearted. He has grown deeply offended and decided that he does not care for her in the least. It happens that they have both gone to New York for the season.)

ACT II.

(Scene on board an ocean liner about to sail for England. Her decks are crowded with passengers and friends who have come to see them off. Among others are Mr. Reginald Glover and Miss Mabel Cherry, of Chicago. Mabel is seen talking to a young man.)

Mabel—Now, what has become of your sister?

Young Man—She has gone to her sister's room for a minute. Surely, you don't begrudge me one second alone when I am to be gone two years!

Really, you are dreadfully proper. Miss—

Reginald (rising)—No; I really must not stay any longer.

Mabel—Please do not hurry away.

Reginald—It is very wrong of you to tempt me. I will accept a second cup—your tea is so delicious—but I ought not to; I have promised to meet a man downtown and I should have started long ago.

Mabel—May I give you another cup of tea?

Reginald (rising)—No; I really must not stay any longer.

Mabel—Please do not hurry away.

Reginald—It is very wrong of you to tempt me. I will accept a second cup—your tea is so delicious—but I ought not to; I have promised to meet a man downtown and I should have started long ago.

Mabel—What a conventional excuse! I suppose if I knew the truth you are going to call on some pretty girl.

Reginald (with the utmost sincerity)—Mabel, you ought to know by this time that there is only one girl in the world for me and only one girl that I care to see.

Mabel (secretly pleased)—What absolute nonsense!

Reginald—Shall I describe her to you?

Mabel—The subject really does not interest me. (She rises from her chair and seats herself on the sofa, where she can catch a glimpse of her pretty reflection in the glass.) Reginald rises also, hesitates for a moment and finally seats himself in the chair she has vacated. (I suppose she is a blonde?)

Reginald (looking at her with lax admiration)—Tell you the truth, I hardly know the color of her hair. When I am with her I can see nothing but her eyes.

Mabel (with affected scorn)—Blues eyes! I know the type. Go on.

Reginald—Here eyes are black. Yes, certainly they are black and very beautiful. (He rises from his chair to descend to his seat and in a unconscious manner seats himself beside her on the sofa.)

Mabel (gathering up her skirt, with a smile, to make room for him)—

Was it necessary to come here? By such a circuitous route? But tell me more about this very pretty girl.

(The conversation continues in this strain for some minutes. Finally Reginald reluctantly takes his leave.)

Not that I would ever speak to him again after the way he treated me. If he were going abroad—But—yes, I must tell him. I am sorry. (Aloud to the young man.) Please go and come to see my sister. The boat will be sailing in a few minutes and I have no time to say to her. I will stay here until you come back. (As the young man dutifully disappears she makes her way toward Reginald. She is conscious of feeling very unhappy and her heart beats tumultuously.)

Meanwhile Reginald has been engaged in conversation with his sister's college friend, having promised to see her safely off to Europe.)

Reginald—Well, if there is really nothing more that I can do for you I ought to be saying good-by. You are sure to make some nice friends on board and have a good time.

His Sister's Friend—Oh, of course.

In fact I have already picked out a girl whom I shall make my particular chum. She has been dreadfully engrossed with a good-looking man, but he's gone now. She looks so sad.

See if you do not think she is pretty. She is coming this way.

Reginald (catching sight of Mabel and turning uncomfortably red)—Where? I don't see any pretty girl.

Talking to a good-looking man, did you say? (Aside.) What business has she got to look so miserable over some conceited idiot? Not that I care how miserable she is. I don't know why I ever cared for her. I wonder why she is going abroad, though? I would like just to ask her. I should feel happier if we made up before we went. She would hardly refuse just to say good-by.

(Mabel approaches.)

Reginald (advancing in a hesitating manner)—How do you do, Mabel?

(She smiles and they shake hands.)

Reginald—I hope it will be a smooth crossing.

Mabel (to herself)—Then he is really going (Aloud). Indeed, I hope so. (She feels there is so much to say and she cannot think of a word.)

Reginald (eagerly)—I have been wanting to see you for a long time to explain—

Mabel—Oh, don't let us waste time over that stupid old misunderstanding. It may be so long before we see each other again. Perhaps never. (Tentatively.)

Reginald (to himself)—So he is going away, perhaps forever. I have half a mind to tell her. (Aloud.) Mabel, can I have one word with you alone?

Mabel (to herself)—If I were only quite sure he had forgiven me. I wouldn't mind his going away half so much. And then we could write to each other, and when he came back— (She smiles consent; he makes his excuses to his sister's college friend and they go away together.)

Mabel (more coldly)—Who is that girl?

(Reginald explains.)

Mabel (somewhat mollified)—Oh, is that all? I thought perhaps—

Reginald—Mabel, you know there is only one girl in the world for me.

Mabel (rather viciously)—Yes, with blonde hair and blue eyes.

Reginald—Oh, confound your Cousin Mildred! Didn't you receive my letter explaining—

Mabel—Yes, I was going to forgive you—but I will now—

Reginald (rapturously)—Then everything is as it was before?

Mabel—Everything. Oh, Reginald, I am so happy!

(The bugle is sounded. All the visitors begin hurriedly to leave the ship.)

Reginald (shakily)—Well, good-bye.

Mabel (with tears in her eyes)—Good-bye.

Reginald—It may be a long time before we see each other again.

Mabel (sadly)—Yes.

Reginald—Then?

Mabel—In front of everybody Oh, we mustn't.

Reginald—You shall.

Mabel—Oh—oh, not twice! Reginald, really, you mustn't.

Reginald—One more. Only one more. (Good-bye, little girl.)

Steward (gruffly)—Now, please, all visitors off the ship. Look sharp, please.

(They tear themselves apart and, neither daring to look back, run for the gangway. A second later they meet, considerably out of breath, on the dock.)

Both together—Why, I thought you were going?

Reginald—I going? No. But you?

Mabel—Then how dare you speak to me?

Reginald—Nothing would have induced me if I had thought—

Mabel (suddenly remembering)—And how dared you kiss me—and oh, how can I ever look anyone in the face again?

Reginald (struck with a happy thought)—Let's say we are engaged.

Mabel—I suppose it's the only thing to do—Chicago Daily News.

CONFUSION OF NAMES.

Kean and Keene, and Johnson and Jonson Are Notable Illustrations.

An evening contemporary has been writing of the distinguished actor Charles "Keene," whose art was older than that of Kean. The slip is natural enough, and connoisseurs will create confusion in the future, as it has done in the past. We pity the prospective grandsons who will have to disentangle the two Winston Churchill's. They are sure to repeat the mistake of the writer who named Spencer as "the author of 'Faery Queen,'" and the many others who confuse the Johnson who made a butt of Boswell with the Jonson who was made a butt by his parents. Moreover, Lord Chatham and his greater son William make Pitt into which many tumble. One of the first duties of the mother who gives birth to a possible genius—which is to say, all mothers—is to give the son a name that none can mistake.
